

Super Bowl LV

By Asher, 4th Grade Student

Today is February 7, 2021. It is an exciting day because Super Bowl LV is tonight. Did you know that in Roman Numerals, LV stands for 55? L is for 50 and V is for 5. So today is the 55th Super Bowl. The Tampa Bay Buccaneers will play against the Kansas City Chiefs at the Raymond James Stadium in Tampa, Florida. The crowd is going to be smaller this year because of COVID-19.

I really want the Tampa Bay Buccaneers to win the Super Bowl. I like their symbol. It is a flag with a skull, swords and a football. It is really cool. The Buccaneers won the Super Bowl in 2003 so maybe this will be their second win!

The Kansas City Chiefs have a symbol of an arrowhead with the initials KC inside it. They have won the Super Bowl two times. They won in 1970 and 2020. If they pull off a win this year, this will be their third win!

I am very excited to watch the game. The kickoff is at 6:30pm.

Update: The Buccaneers won with 31 points against the Chiefs who had 9 points! Tom Brady was the MVP and this was his seventh Super Bowl win!
